Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-3, 9-13, 16-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Fuglevand et al. (U. S. Patent 6,387,556).

Fuglevand discloses a method and a control system for a power system 10, including a plurality of sensors (current, voltage, temperature, fuel), a controller for receiving and analyzing the sensors for abnormal operating conditions, and determining whether an operational adjustment of the power system module is desirable figures 2, 4 and 5.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 4-8, 14-15 and 19-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Fuglevand in view of Gaubatz (U. S. Patent 5,586,156).

Fuglevand discloses all the claimed invention of a method and a control system for a power system 10, including having a plurality of sensors except having the controller to receive and analyze the sensor signals to determine the existence of an unhealthy sensor signal and substitute a redundant sensor for operation of the power system. Gaubatz discloses having a power system with a plurality of sensors for operating redundancy, column 2, lines 53-64.

Third, automatic detection and discrimination against failed sensors allows the RPS to automatically enter a known state when such failures occur. There is no uncertainty as to whether the sensors have failed high or low, or whether the operator has taken the correct manual bypass action.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify the power system of Fuglevand by providing unhealthy sensor signal and correct the operation as disclosed by Gaubatz to increase reliability and efficiency.

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Takahashi et al. and Hirakata et al. disclose related art.
